

POLICE SUPERVISOR'S UPDATE

Are your supervisory skills out-of-date?

A three-day seminar to update and sharpen law enforcement supervisory skills

"One of the most informative classes that I have attended since becoming a supervisor 6 years ago. I will high recommend."

"Very pleased with the caliber of instructors for our classes. ILEA always makes students feel welcome and treats us as professional adults. Thank you for an enjoyable school experience."

Problem: After completing a basic supervisor's course, law enforcement supervisors often have limited opportunities to enhance and freshen their management and leadership abilities through in-service training.

Solution: This three-day Police Supervisor's Update will provide a forum for first-line and mid-level supervisors to sharpen current skills while building new ones; examine current law enforcement management issues; and discuss the latest workplace legal decisions.

Topics:

- Leadership Communication Style
- Diversity Issues in Law Enforcement
- Managing the Workforce
- Strategies for Avoiding Litigation
- Performance Management
- Evaluating and Counseling
- Defining Leaders of Integrity
- Aligning Values, Policies and Practice
- Bringing Ethics to Life

Who Should Attend: Experienced sworn and non-sworn first-line and mid-level supervisors with a desire to sharpen and further develop management and leadership abilities, while remaining current on the latest law enforcement supervisory and workplace legal issues.

Note: This course is best suited for those with supervisory experience.
